Bismillah and a‘udhu

Lesson 1 · beginning with Allah

📖 The story: Bismillah and a‘udhu

Read together, part by part.

Part 1 – Forgotten

Imane is fifteen. She quickly eats a biscuit on the way to the bus. Her grandmother sees it and says: “You forgot Bismillah.” “Grandma, it’s only a biscuit,” laughs Imane. Grandma laughs too, but she says: “A biscuit, a test, a new day. Everything you begin with the name of Allah gets baraka.” Imane doesn’t really know what baraka is. “Blessing,” says Grandma. “Something small becomes big and good.”

☆ Begin everything with Bismillah: then it gets baraka.

baraka = blessing from Allah · test = small exam at school

Part 2 – Two short sentences

In Islam class Ms Samira explains two sentences. Bismillahi r-rahmani r-rahim: in the name of Allah, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful. You say that when you begin something: eating, reading, your homework, getting on your bike. A‘udhu billahi mina sh-shaytani r-rajim: I seek protection with Allah from the accursed devil. You say that before you read the Quran, when you are angry or when you want to do something bad. “The one opens the door to good,” says Ms Samira. “The other closes the door to evil.”

☆ Bismillah opens the door to good, a‘udhu closes the door to evil.

protection = being kept safe · accursed = driven away from Allah’s mercy

Part 3 – A habit

Imane decides to try something. For a week she says Bismillah at everything she begins. On day two she forgets it three times. On day six it comes naturally. When her brother teases her and she wants to shout back, she whispers a‘udhu billah. She stays calm. “You’re different this week,” says her brother. Imane smiles. She has a new habit, and it costs nothing.

☆ Two short sentences can change your whole day.

habit = something you do automatically · tease = annoy someone a little for fun

💬 Let’s talk: With which things you do every day can you say Bismillah?

💡 Did you know? – Bismillah in the Quran

- Every surah of the Quran begins with Bismillah, except surah 9, At-Tawba.
- Forgot Bismillah when eating? Then say: Bismillahi awwalahu wa akhirah.
- You say a‘udhu billah before reading the Quran. That way you ask Allah for calm and attention.

📖 From the Quran

Quran 16:98

فَإِذَا قَرَأْتَ الْقُرْآنَ فَاسْتَعِذْ بِاللَّهِ مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ الرَّجِيمِ

Fa-idhaa qara’ta l-qur’aana fasta’idh bi-llaahi mina sh-shaytaani r-rajim.

“When you read the Quran, seek protection with Allah from the accursed devil.”

The salam

Lesson 2 · greeting with peace

📖 The story: The salam

Read together, part by part.

Part 1 – Just hey

In the playground Younes always says “hey” or “yo” to his friends. One day a new pupil comes into the class, Bilal. Bilal says to everyone: “As-salamu ‘alaykum.” Some laugh. “Why so formal?” asks Younes. Bilal shrugs. “It isn’t formal. I wish you peace. Isn’t that nicer than yo?”

☆ As-salamu ‘alaykum: peace be upon you.

playground = school yard for breaks · formal = very serious and official

Part 2 – Who greets first?

Younes asks his father. He explains: “The Prophet said: spread the salam among yourselves, then you will love each other.” There are also rules. Whoever rides greets whoever walks. Whoever walks greets whoever sits. A small group greets a large group. The younger greets the older. And whoever receives the salam answers: wa ‘alaykumu s-salam. “Preferably even more beautifully,” says his father. “Wa ‘alaykumu s-salam wa rahmatullahi wa barakatuh.”

☆ Answer the salam with an equally beautiful or more beautiful greeting.

spread = make it reach everywhere · answer = say something back

Part 3 – To the teacher too?

The next day Younes says salam to Bilal. Bilal is happy. Younes wonders: and to someone who isn’t Muslim? His father said: “Greet everyone kindly. Good morning, hello madam, a smile: that is good character too.” That morning Younes says “good morning, Miss” at the door. The teacher looks surprised and smiles back. A greeting costs nothing, thinks Younes. And yet it makes something warm.

☆ Greet everyone kindly: a greeting costs nothing.

kindly = nicely and politely · surprised = unexpectedly happy or amazed

💬 Let’s talk: How do you feel when someone greets you kindly? And when someone ignores you?

💡 Did you know? – The full salam

- As-salamu ‘alaykum wa rahmatullahi wa barakatuh: peace, the mercy of Allah and His blessings be upon you.
- As-Salam is also one of the most beautiful names of Allah: the Peace.
- The people of Paradise greet each other with salam.

📖 From the Quran

Quran 4:86

وَإِذَا حُيِّيتُم بِتَحِيَّةٍ فَحَيُّوا بِأَحْسَنَ مِنْهَا أَوْ رُدُّوهَا

Wa idhaa huyyitum bi-tahiyyatin fa-hayyu bi-ahsana minhaa aw rudduhaa.

“When you are greeted, greet back with something better, or return the same greeting.”

Good character

Lesson 3 · the example of the Prophet

📖 The story: Good character

Read together, part by part.

Part 1 – The best player

Kenza is the best player in the basketball team. But she shouts at others when they make a mistake. One day the coach says: “You’re good, Kenza. But the team plays worse when you shout.” Kenza is angry. At home she says: “I’m the best, aren’t I?” Her mother answers: “Talent is something you get. Character is something you choose.”

☆ Talent you get, character you choose.

talent = something you are naturally good at · character = how you are and how you treat others

Part 2 – The most beautiful character

Her mother tells her about the Prophet. Anas served him for ten years. “He never said ‘uff’ to me,” said Anas, “and never: why did you do that?” The Prophet smiled a lot, was gentle with children and helped at home. Allah says about him in the Quran: you have a great character. “And he said,” says her mother: “the best of you are those with the best character.”

☆ The best people have the best character.

serve = work for someone and help him · gentle = kind and not harsh

Part 3 – A new Kenza

At the next match her teammate Lien misses an easy shot. Kenza wants to shout. She takes a deep breath and says: “Next time, Lien. Come on!” Lien scores twice in a row. After the match the coach says nothing, but he gives a thumbs up. Kenza feels prouder than after her own points.

☆ A kind word makes someone else stronger.

shot = throwing the ball · proud = happy with what you did 💬 Let’s talk: Do you know someone with good character? What does that person do?

💡 Did you know? – Character in Islam

- Character is called akhlaq in Arabic.
- The Prophet said: nothing weighs heavier on the scale on the Last Day than good character.
- ‘A’isha said about the Prophet: his character was the Quran.

📖 From the Quran

Quran 68:4

وَإِنَّكَ لَعَلَىٰ خُلُقٍ عَظِيمٍ

Wa innaka la-’alaa khuluqin ’adhim.

“And you truly have a great character.”

Good character

- ◯ ten years
- ◯ two years

4. Who are the best people?

- ◯ those who score most
- ◯ those with the best character

5. What does Kenza say to Lien?

- ◯ What are you doing?
- ◯ Next time, come on!

6. What is character called in Arabic?

- ◯ akhlaq
- ◯ salam

Being honest

Lesson 4 · telling the truth

📖 The story: Being honest
Read together, part by part.

Part 1 – A scratch

Hamza is doing a work placement in a bike shop. While repairing an expensive racing bike, the bike falls over. There is a scratch on the frame. Nobody saw it. His colleague says quietly: “Don’t say anything. Nobody will notice.” Hamza doubts all afternoon.

☆ Being honest is hardest when nobody is watching.

scratch = line or mark on something · frame = the main part of a bike

Part 2 – Al-Amin

That evening Hamza thinks of the Prophet. Even before he became a prophet, the people of Mecca called him al-Amin: the trustworthy. They gave him their valuable things to keep. Even his enemies said: he has never lied. The Prophet said: honesty leads to good, and good leads to Paradise. Lies lead to evil. Hamza knows what he has to do.

☆ Honesty leads to good, and good leads to Paradise.

trustworthy = someone you can count on · valuable = worth a lot

Part 3 – The conversation

The next morning Hamza goes to his boss. “Yesterday I made a scratch on the racing bike. I’m sorry.” The boss looks stern for a moment. Then he says: “Thank you for telling me. I can repair that. I can’t repair a lie.” At the end of the placement Hamza gets a good report. Under comments it says: honest and trustworthy.

☆ You can repair a mistake; a lie is much harder.

boss = the person in charge · repair = make good again

💬 Let’s talk: Why is being honest sometimes hard? What helps you to tell the truth anyway?

💡 Did you know? – Honesty

- The Prophet was called al-Amin and as-Sadiq: the trustworthy and the truthful.
- Even when he had to flee to Medina, he left ‘Ali behind to return other people’s belongings.
- A hadith says: whoever cheats is not one of us.

📖 From the Quran

Quran 9:119

يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا اتَّقُوا اللَّهَ وَكُونُوا مَعَ الصَّادِقِينَ

Yaa ayyuha lladhina aamanu ttaqu llaaha wa kunu ma’a s-saadiqin.

“You who believe: be mindful of Allah and stand with those who are truthful.”

Beautiful words

Lesson 5 · politeness

📖 The story: Beautiful words
Read together, part by part.

Part 1 – Swear words

In Soumaya’s class there is a lot of swearing. Sometimes as a joke, sometimes not. Soumaya joins in too. One day her little sister of eight hears her on the phone. An hour later her sister swears at the cat with exactly the same words. Soumaya is shocked. “Where did you learn that?” Her sister looks at her. “From you.”

☆ Others copy your words.

swear = say ugly words to someone · copy = start doing the same

Part 2 – What does the Quran say?

Soumaya looks it up. The Quran says: speak to people in a good way. The Prophet said: whoever believes in Allah and the Last Day says something good or stays silent. He also said that a good word is a sadaqa, a good gift. Soumaya thinks. Thank you, please, sorry, may I: small words, but they make someone’s day better. “So every time I say thank you, I give something,” she says.

☆ Say something good or stay silent.

stay silent = say nothing · sadaqa = a gift for Allah, also a good deed

Part 3 – A money box

Soumaya makes a deal with her sister. Whoever swears puts ten cents in a money box. After a month there are three euros in it. After two months hardly anything is added. They give the money to the mosque. “My mouth has become clean,” laughs Soumaya. Her sister now says “please” to the cat.

☆ You can practise beautiful words, like a sport.

money box = little pot to keep money in · deal = something you decide together

💬 Let’s talk: Which polite words do you use every day? Which would you like to use more?

💡 Did you know? – Politeness

- Politeness is called adab in Arabic.
- The Prophet never swore and never cursed, said his servant Anas.
- A smile to your brother is also sadaqa, said the Prophet.

📖 From the Quran

Quran 2:83

وَقُولُوا لِلنَّاسِ حُسْنًا

Wa qulu li-n-naasi husnaa.

“And speak to people in a good way.”

My parents

Lesson 6 · respect and care

📖 The story: My parents

Read together, part by part.

Part 1 – Uff

Moussa is sixteen. His father asks: “Will you help me carry the shopping from the car?” Moussa is in the middle of a game. “Uff, later,” he says, irritated. His father carries everything upstairs alone. Later Moussa sees that his father is struggling with his back. He feels bad.

☆ Even a small ‘uff’ can hurt your parents.

irritated = a little angry · struggle = have trouble, not manage well

Part 2 – Not even uff

In the Quran Allah says: be good to your parents. If one or both of them grow old, do not even say ‘uff’ to them and do not snap at them. Speak to them gently and kindly. And pray: my Lord, have mercy on them, as they cared for me when I was small. A man asked the Prophet: who most deserves my good care? “Your mother,” he said. “And then?” “Your mother.” “And then?” “Your mother.” “And then?” “Your father.”

☆ After Allah, your parents deserve the most respect.

snap at = answer briefly and angrily · merciful = full of love and care

Part 3 – Sorry, Dad

Moussa goes to his father. “Sorry about earlier.” His father smiles. “It’s already forgotten.” That evening Moussa puts a heat pad on his father’s back. On Saturday he does the shopping alone. His mother looks surprised. “What’s happened to you?” Moussa grins. “I read a verse.”

☆ Rabbi rhamhuma: my Lord, have mercy on them.

heat pad = cushion that gets warm against pain · grin = smile broadly

💬 Let’s talk: What can you do this week to make your parents happy?

💡 Did you know? – Parents in Islam

- In the Quran, being good to your parents often comes straight after worshipping Allah.
- Paradise lies at the feet of mothers, says a well-known narration.
- Even if your parents have died, you can pray for them and give sadaqa.

📖 From the Quran

Quran 17:24

وَقُل رَّبِّ ارْحَمْهُمَا كَمَا رَبَّيَانِي صَغِيرًا

Wa qul rabbi rhamhumaa kamaa rabbayaani saghiraa.

“And say: my Lord, have mercy on them, as they cared for me when I was small.”

Guests and neighbours

Lesson 7 · hospitality

📖 The story: Guests and neighbours
Read together, part by part.

Part 1 – Unexpected visit

Saturday evening. Lina is about to watch a film when the doorbell rings. Aunt Naima and her four children are at the door. “We were in the area,” says her aunt. Lina sighs quietly. Her mother says at once: “Welcome, come in!” She makes tea and puts biscuits on the table. Lina has to share her room with two little cousins.

☆ You welcome a guest with a smile.

guest = someone who comes to visit · unexpected = without you knowing

Part 2 – Honouring a guest

Later Lina asks: “Mum, weren’t you tired?” Her mother nods. “But the Prophet said: whoever believes in Allah and the Last Day should honour his guest. And also: whoever believes does no harm to his neighbour.” She tells her about Ibrahim, who at once prepared a roasted calf for unknown guests. “A guest brings baraka,” says her mother. “And you never know when you will need someone.”

☆ Whoever believes honours his guest and does no harm to his neighbour.

honour = treat with respect and care · neighbour = someone who lives next to you

Part 3 – The new neighbour

A week later an older lady moves in next door, Mrs Claes. She knows nobody. Lina remembers what her mother said. Together they bake msemmen and bring a plate. Mrs Claes has tears in her eyes. “I’ve never had such a welcome.” Now she greets Lina every morning from her window.

☆ Being good to your neighbours is part of your faith.

move = go to live in another house · msemmen = Moroccan pancake

💬 Let’s talk: How would you welcome a new pupil in your class?

💡 Did you know? – Hospitality

- The Prophet said: Jibril kept advising me to be good to neighbours, until I thought they would inherit.
- A guest has the right to three days of hospitality.
- A neighbour is every neighbour, Muslim or not.

📖 Hadith

Al-Bukhari and Muslim

مَنْ كَانَ يُؤْمِنُ بِاللَّهِ وَالْيَوْمِ الْآخِرِ فَلْيُكْرِمْ ضَيْفَهُ

Man kaana yu’minu bi-llaahi wa l-yawmi l-aakhiri fal-yukrim dayfah.

“Whoever believes in Allah and the Last Day should honour his guest.”

My tongue and my hands

Lesson 8 · online too

📖 The story: My tongue and my hands

Read together, part by part.

Part 1 – A photo in the group

A photo of Bram appears in the class WhatsApp group. He falls off his chair and his trousers tear. Everyone sends laughing smileys. Ayman has the photo too. His thumb hovers over the button to forward it to his football friends.

☆ One click can hurt someone a lot.

forward = send a message on to others · tear = get a hole

Part 2 – Who is a Muslim?

Ayman thinks of a hadith he learned in class. The Prophet said: a Muslim is someone from whose tongue and hand other Muslims are safe. “Tongue is what you say,” the teacher said then. “Hand is what you do. And today your hand is also your thumb on your phone.” Gossiping, making fun of someone, sharing a photo without permission: it is all hurt with your tongue or your hand. Ayman does not forward the photo. He deletes it.

☆ A Muslim hurts no one with his tongue or his hand.

gossip = talk about someone behind his back · permission = someone says it is allowed

Part 3 – A message to Bram

Ayman sends Bram a private message: “Are you OK? That photo isn’t OK. I deleted it.” Bram only answers after an hour: “Thanks. I didn’t dare go to school tomorrow.” Ayman asks in the group if everyone will delete the photo. A few people do. The next day Bram sits next to Ayman.

☆ Choose the side of the one who is hurting.

private message = message to one person · delete = remove 💬 Let’s talk: What would you do if a mean photo or a rumour appeared in your group?

💡 Did you know? – Your tongue

- Gossip is called ghiba in Arabic: saying something about someone that he would not like to hear.
- The Quran compares gossip to eating the flesh of your dead brother (49:12).
- Everyone has the right to their own image: don’t share a photo of someone without permission.

📖 Hadith

Al-Bukhari

الْمُسْلِمُ مَنْ سَلِمَ الْمُسْلِمُونَ مِنْ لِسَانِهِ وَيَدِهِ

Al-muslimu man salima l-muslimuna min lisaanihi wa yadih.

“A Muslim is someone from whose tongue and hand the Muslims are safe.”

United

Lesson 9 · brothers and sisters in faith

📖 The story: United

Read together, part by part.

Part 1 – Two little groups

In Yasmina’s mosque there are two groups of young people. One group comes from Moroccan families, the other from Turkish ones. They hardly talk to each other. One day the mosque organises an iftar for young people. Yasmina has to help arrange the tables. She deliberately mixes up the names.

☆ Together at one table: that is already a start.

organise = arrange and prepare something · arrange = put in a good place

Part 2 – Brothers and sisters

Before the meal the imam speaks to the young people. “Allah says in the Quran: the believers are brothers. So make peace between your brothers.” He tells them that in Medina the Prophet paired the Muslims from Mecca and from Medina as brothers. They shared their homes and their food. “Whether your parents come from Turkey, from Morocco, from Syria or from Belgium: in the row for prayer we stand shoulder to shoulder.”

☆ The believers are brothers and sisters.

pair = join two together · shoulder to shoulder = close next to each other

Part 3 – A new group

At the table Yasmina sits next to Elif. They laugh at the same things. Elif teaches her to say “afiyet olsun”, Yasmina teaches Elif “bssaha”. Both mean: enjoy your meal and good health. After the iftar they make a new group chat together: Young people of the mosque. Twenty names join. Turkish and Moroccan mixed together.

☆ Differences make us richer, not divided.

divided = in little groups that are not together · richer = with more good things

💬 Let’s talk: How can you help bring groups in your class or your mosque closer together?

💡 Did you know? – Unity

- The Prophet said: the believers are like one body. When one part hurts, the whole body feels it.
- On hajj people from all countries stand together, in the same white clothes.
- In Medina the muhajirun (from Mecca) and the ansar (from Medina) became brothers.

📖 From the Quran

Quran 49:10

إِنَّمَا الْمُؤْمِنُونَ إِخْوَةٌ فَأَصْلِحُوا بَيْنَ أَخَوَيْكُمْ

Innamaa l-mu’minuna ikhwatun fa-aslihu bayna akhawaykum.

No bullying

Lesson 10 · laugh at no one

📖 The story: No bullying
Read together, part by part.

Part 1 – Different

Tom is new in the class. He stutters. When he answers, some people laugh. Rida sniggers along too. At break Tom always stands alone by the fence. Rida notices it, but does nothing. It isn't his problem, is it?

☆ Laughing along is also joining in.

stutter = find it hard to speak smoothly, repeat words · snigger = laugh quietly

Part 2 – Perhaps better

In Islam class Mr Driss reads out a verse: let no group laugh at another group, perhaps they are better than them. "Allah doesn't look at your appearance or how you speak," he says. "He looks at your heart and your deeds." He tells them about Abdullah ibn Mas'ud, a companion with very thin legs. People laughed about it. The Prophet said: those legs weigh more on the scale than the mountain of Uhud.

☆ Laugh at no one: perhaps he is better than you.

appearance = how someone looks · Uhud = a big mountain near Medina

Part 3 – At the fence

At the next break Rida goes to the fence. "Do you want to play football?" Tom looks surprised. He nods. He turns out to be the best goalkeeper in the school. When someone laughs at his stutter again, Rida says: "Leave him. He just saved three balls." The laughing stops. Tom doesn't speak more smoothly, but he no longer stands alone.

☆ One person who stands up for another can change everything.

stand up for someone = defend someone · goalkeeper = the player in goal

💬 Let's talk: What can you do when you see someone being bullied? Who can you ask for help?

💡 Did you know? – Bullying

- The Prophet said: it is evil enough for a person to look down on his Muslim brother.
- At school you can report bullying to a teacher, a pupil counsellor or the school's support service.
- If you are being bullied, you can also call or chat with a children's helpline (free and anonymous).

📖 From the Quran

Quran 49:11

يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا لَا يَسْخَرْ قَوْمٌ مِّن قَوْمٍ عَسَىٰ أَن يَكُونُوا خَيْرًا مِّنْهُمْ

Yaa ayyuha lladhina aamanu laa yaskhar qawmum min qawmin ’asaa an yakunu khayran minhum.

“You who believe: let no group laugh at another group. Perhaps they are better than them.”
